Opinion Writing

So far this year we've learned letter writing, narrative (story) writing, expository (factual) writing and now we are moving on to opinion writing. Opinion writing is all about what the student believes, but it must be supported by specific reasons. These paragraphs must have a topic sentence stating the opinion, three strong reasons for the opinion and a conclusion sentence. Kids have lots of opinions and usually do very well with this genre!

Return to School

We are SO EXCITED to have students return to campus! We are busy preparing room 4 for their arrival March 22nd. There will be a ton of information, procedures and changes coming your way. Check emails frequently. Please be patient with us as we navigate these uncharted waters. We are working hard to maximize learning during this transitional time, all while maintaining the necessary safety protocols.

Unit 5 Math Assessment

Next week we begin our Unit 5 Math Assessment. You were given a copy at March Supply Pick-up last week. Beginning Monday, in class we will do two practice problems each day. Then for homework that night, we ask students to complete two problems on the assessment. We do not want the students to do all 8 problems in one night. Please follow this schedule:

Monday do #1 and 2
Tuesday do #3 and 4
Wednesday do #5 and 6
Thursday do # 7 and 8
